SIX - GUN HEROES

A FRIEND INDEED!

BUCK DESMOND LIKED most people And they usually liked him—just because he was an easy-going, soft-spoken cow waddy, with a joke for every youngster, and a crumbling lump of sugar for every horse.

Buck was a born drifter. Wearing a hat-tered gray Stetson, and a weatherbeaten blue Levi jacket, he rambled from town to town, leading a string of cow ponies. The string never looked the same from one week to the next . . . because Buck could never refuse a good trade. Cowhands used to say that if Buck Desmond ever married, he'd probably trade his wife for a good-looking pinto pony. Chances are they'd have been right!

YES, BUCK USUALLY liked most people

But now, as he rode into the little town of Prairie Wells, he saw a man that he decided he did not like. A big man, red-faced, with the heavy, knotted arm of a blacksmith—standing by a horse trough, cuffing a small boy. Buck Desmond reined in his pony and watched for a moment. The boy was beginning to cry, but still the big man held him and continued to hit him with short, mean, punishing blows.

Slowly, Buck Desmond dismounted. He walked over to the man and tapped him on the shoulder.

"Let go of that kid," he said, in his usual easy-going manner.

The big man turned around ponderously. Tiny eyes gleamed angrily in his red, swollen face, and his jowls were unshaven. He looked Buck up and down—and evidently saw nothing to worry him.

"Where I come from, Mister," he said heavily, "we mind our own business. Savvy?"

Buck Desmond nodded, and tipped his grey Stetson back. "I savvy," he repeated. "An' where I come from, big men don't beat up little kids! Touch him ag'in, and I'll show yuh why!"

With an angry curse, the big man moved into action. Surprisingly quick, he swung a hard right that slammed with mule-kick impact against Buck's jaw. His left followed, driving the wind out of the drifter's chest, and teetering him backward on rubbery-weak legs. Buck's back slammed against the horse-trough. Recovering himself, he ducked a roundhouse right from the big man, and thudded a right to his stomach.

The other man blinked a little, and charged back in, his fists flailing like pistons. But now Buck was ready for him. Again he avoided the oncoming blows—and smashed a hard right-and-left combination that stopped the giant in his tracks. Now Buck lunged forward. A powerful left to the heart, and a stunning right punch that jarred the big man's jaw and slumped him to the dusty roadway.

Buck looked down at him contemptuously, as he lay there, gasping for breath, his little eyes blinking. Then Buck turned to the boy who had stood by during the fight. He put his lean, bronzed hand on the boy's shoulder.

"Kid," he asked, "what's your name?"

"Rick," the boy replied. "Rick Rover."

Buck grinned. "Good enough! I don't think your old man will be beatin' yuh up ag'in, for quite a while. Mebbe he's learned a lesson for hisself!" Gracefully, Buck swung into his saddle, and waved his hand at the boy. "So long, Ricky." His spurs touched the pony's sides gently. "An' good luck!"

BUCK NEVER EXPECTED to see either the boy or the man again. But that night, as he camped in a dry river bed, some twenty miles from Prairie Wells, he was due for a surprise. For there, standing in the pale glow of the firelight, was a small, hesitant form . . . the boy of the afternoon. He was clutching the rein of a dusty, shaggy pony.

"Well, I'll be hornsw——" Buck exclaimed. "Come here, son!"

The boy came forward, right up to the fire. "I—I followed you," he said. "All th' way from town . . . on my pony. I reckoned you'd stop an' camp about here."

Buck Desmond's brow knitted.

"But you can't do that, boy. You can't run away from your dad like that . . . even if he has been beatin' yuh up."

"He ain't my dad," Ricky said. "I'm an orphan. His name's Floyd Barlow. He's been takin' care of me—takin' me along with him. But he ain't my dad!"

"I see . . ." Buck frowned. "But still, yuh can't run away from him like that. Tomorrow, jest as soon as it turns light—yuh have tuh go back tuh him! That's th' only right thing tuh do!"

Suddenly, one of the horses in Buck's remuda whinnied shrilly. Buck turned, eyes straining into the night. There, coming along the trail, he could make out the dark shape of a rider. Was it the boy's foster-father—Floyd Barlow? No! It was several riders—and one of them wore the gleaming silver badge of a lawman. They rode right up to the edge of the fire, and the gray-haired man in the lead nodded down at Buck.

"Evenin'," he said. "Sorry tuh disturb yuh."

"That's all right, Sheriff," Buck said. "Can I help yuh?"

The rider inclined his head. "I hope yuh can. I'm Sheriff Newton, from Prairie Wells. I'm lookin' for a feller rode through there this afternoon. Folks recognized him from a poster in the Post Office. He's wanted back in Kansas for a stage coach robbery an' murder, couple o' years ago."

"What's he look like?" Buck asked.

"Big, red-faced feller. Little eyes. Goes under name of Ferd Bevens—or sometimes Floyd Barlow. Have yuh seen him?"

Buck Desmond shook his head.

"Sorry, Sheriff. I saw him in town this afternoon—but not since then." He looked over at Ricky, crouching silently by the fire. "I'm afraid neither of us can help yuh."

"All right, then," the Sheriff said. "If you do see or hear about him, notify us. We'll push on now." He reined his horse away, and in another moment, the posse had disappeared in the night.

Buck turned to the boy. "Ricky, did yuh hear that?" Barlow's wanted for murder! Did yuh know it?"

The boy shook his head. "No—I didn't! But I knew he was worried about somethin'. He never wanted tuh head East—or even tuh ride through towns. That why he beat me up this afternoon . . . 'cause I rode intuh Prairie Wells——"

"THAT'S RIGHT, RICKY!" a harsh voice grated, from outside the ring of firelight. "Yuh deserved it. But now, I'm echin' tuh git a crack at yore buddy—th' feller who can't mind his own business."

Slowly, into the light, stepped big Floyd Barlow.

He was holding a Colt .45, the muzzle leveled at Buck Desmond's chest. His eyes glittered, pig-like, with ill-concealed triumph.

"I didn't know where yuh was headin', when yuh took th' pony this afternoon, Ricky," Barlow said. "But I followed yuh . . . an' I'm glad I did. Because it kep' them posse fellers from grabbin' me . . . an' it's goin' tuh give me a chance tuh git away."

He nodded at the grazing ponies of Buck's string.

"I'm taking three of yore fastest hosses," he said. "An' I'm headin' north, with th' boy. But there won't be any fuss this time . . ." He raised the revolver slightly, and his finger tightened perceptibly on the trigger. "Because, stranger, I'm puttin' yuh out of th' way for good!"

"No! No!" Ricky screamed. "Floyd, yuh wouldn't!"

That momentary interruption was all Buck Desmond needed.

His cowboy boot dug deep into the coals and sent a glowing spray of them toward the big man. As Barlow recoiled, throwing his hand up to his face, to protect himself, Buck hurtled forward.

He drove a heavy right to the outlaw's chest. Barlow grunted, and smashed down hard with his hamlike fist, stunning Buck. Now he grinned, leaped backward, and leveled the gun again. "Take it —" he snarled. But Buck Desmond lunged forward again, under the revolver's sharp challenge. He pinioned the criminal with steel-like arms, and felled him like a huge tree.

Moments later, Buck had twisted his way up, and was pounding relentless blows to Barlow's jaw. A right! A left! A final right—and the big man sagged . . . unconscious. A little driblet of saliva stained his unshaven cheek.

BUCK ROSE TO HIS feet, fists clenching and unclenching. He threw a tired arm around Ricky's shoulder.

"All right, son," he said, "Git on yore pony, and ride after th' sheriff. Tell him we've got his man for him. And then come back hyar with him. I want tuh see whether—whether yuh might like tuh hook up with a new pardner."

The boy turned shining eyes up to Buck. "Yuh mean—with you?"

Buck grinned. "Go on, son. Git th' sheriff!"

THE GUN

A GUN IS A WEAPON! IN THE DAYS OF THE OLD WEST IT WAS ALSO THE MEASURE OF A MAN! BUT A GUN CAN BE SOMETHING ELSE TOO... AS OLD POP FERRIS KNEW!

WUH CAN'T CUT THE MUSTARD, CASS! WUH CAN'T BEAT ME... WUH NEVER COULD AN' WUH NEVER WILL!

DESPERATELY, CASS DREW...

As you give it more and more line it will turn wider and wider, fly faster and faster! You have perfect control every second of its flight! You can fly it in circles only five feet wide, or you can take it outdoors and fly it in gigantic arcs one hundred feet wide—the size of an entire city lot—so fast that your eye can hardly follow it—BUT EVERY SECOND UNDER YOUR COMPLETE CONTROL.

You can make this plane soar upward—stall at fantastic heights—dive toward the ground—and then pick up speed and flash upward again in a breath-taking rescue! You can make the engines on your plane scream like fighters at bursts of 600 scale miles an hour! You can make them purr softly at cruising speed—hear them roar again as your plane picks up altitude and speed!

You can spiral this magnificent model down into a perfect landing! You can fly two or more planes in perfect formation! You can have jet tests! You can have an entire fleet of iron-taking models flown by every member of your family—and you can buy them all for only $1.00 a piece plus 25¢ postage & handling—LESS THAN ONE-FIFTH THE PRICE YOU'D EXPECT TO PAY!

Don't Be Half A Man!

Let Me SHOW How I Can Make You a REAL HE MAN from Head to Toe—in Just 15 Minutes a Day!

ARE YOU:

- Skinny and Run Down?
- Always Tired?
- Nervous?
- Shy and Lacking in Confidence?
- Overweight and Short of Breath?
- Lacking in Vim and Vigor?
- Pail or Flabby?
- Slow at Sports?
- Do You Want to Gain Weight?
- Tired of being bullied?
- Ashamed of your Half-Man Build?

NOBODY would ever call an Atlas Champion "Half A Man." They would all dare! And nobody has to settle for "Second Best" to "pushed around" by finkier fellows to go through life feeling HALF ALIVE. CHARLES ATLAS himself, tells you what you can do about it—and FAST—right on this page!

Take a good honest look at yourself! Are you proud of your body or are you satisfied to go through life being just "half the man" you could be?

NO MATTER how ashamed of your present physical condition you may be—how old or young you are—you have the DORMANT muscle power in your God-given body to be a real HE-MAN. Believe me, I know because I was once a 97-pound HALF ALIVE weakling. People laughed at my build. I was ashamed to strip for sports—shy of girls—afraid of competition.

Then I discovered the secret that changed me into "The World's Most Perfectly Developed Man." The secret I have shared with thousands of fellows like you to turn them into marvelous physical specimens—REAL HE-MEN from head to toe!

My Secret Builds Muscles FAST!

My Secret—"Dynamic Tension"—will turn the trick for you FAST! It's the NATURAL easy method you can practice right in the privacy of your own room—JUST 15 MINUTES EACH DAY—while your scrawny chest and shoulder muscles swell so big they almost split your coat seams—you get sledge hammer fists a battering ram punch—ridges of solid stomach muscle—mighty legs that never tire!

NO theory. No gadgets or contraptions. When you develop your strength through "Dynamic Tension," you can laugh at artificial muscle makers. You simply use the SLEEPING power in your own body. And almost unconsciously every muscle of the day—walking, breathing, even etc.—which it increases, and multiply until you're covered with a layer below coil of beautiful SOLID MUSCLE. You're a REAL HE-MAN!

Charles Atlas
Holder of the title "The World's Most Perfectly Developed Man"
